| As self-managers, we make wise decisions about our learning and organise ourselves. We set goals, regulate our emotions and reflect on our learning. | As collaborators, we value working with others. We build learning relationships with empathy in a variety of ways. We respectfully acknowledge each other's ideas and we reflect on our influence and contributions to groups. | As communicators, we share our ideas, confidently, in different ways and for different purposes. We listen thoughtfully to what others communicate to us. We can adapt our communication style to different contexts. | As thinkers, we are logical, creative and reflective. We think about how we use our thinking and have different strategies for making thinking visible to others. We remain open minded and know that our thinking changes as we learn. | As inquirers, we can formulate questions and locate and use a wide range of sources and techniques to investigate problems, interests and issues. We think critically about the information we gather and we are careful to acknowledge our sources. |
